Solar Power International Design Catalog

How to use the interactive product catalog

Within this catalog are design ideas with starting price points. Each design includes a brief description of the general design and what is included for that price point.

To begin, select the booth size you are looking for, you will be taken to a landing page with photos of each design for that booth size. Click on the photo that best fits the clients budget or price point and you will be taken directly to the page with that display. The page will provide a brief description of the booth and what it includes. If you want to go back to main landing page for that booth size, click on the description header at the top of the page. To go back to the main booth sizes page, select the small icon on the bottom right side of the page.

We also have provided a selection of accessories that can be added to any booth design at an additional cost. These are located on the Miscellaneous page of this catalog.

If you have further questions or the exhibitor would like to use one of the designs please feel free to refer them to Tanya Magness, an Account Executive at Global Experience Specialists (GES).
