Exhibitor Online Profile

In 400 characters or less, please provide a description of what your company will be featuring in your booth. The company profile will be published in the pre-convention issue of AWCI's Construction Dimensions magazine. The profile will also remain online for up to two months after the show closes.

The instructions are easy:

- Go to the following site – Home - Build24: AWCI's Convention + Expo (smallworldlabs.com) and enter your password. If you are logging into the Event Portal for the first time, please use your normal email login, then select "Forgot Password", and create a new password for your Exhibitor Hub profile.
- Select "edit both info".
- Update all info on the page. The "print profile: section is what will be printed in the Construction Dimensions magazine with your contact information provided.
- Click "save" at the bottom when you are done.
- Your profile will be published online as soon as you hit save. Show Management reserves the right to edit the online and print profiles.
