Re: 2017 ICSC Canadian Convention Move-in and Move-out Requirements
From: Mayuri Khemlani, Trade Expositions Planner

All exhibitors/contractors at the 2017 ICSC Canadian Convention are required to have and use the appropriate Personal Protective Equipment while on the event premises.

The exhibit floor at Metro Toronto Convention Centre during the move-in and move-out of the show is considered a construction site and is governed by the Occupational Health & Safety Act (OHSA). Failure to comply with the Act and Regulations as outlined in the OHSA (21(1) – 25 inclusive) may result in the closure of the show floor.

The International Council of Shopping Centers requires that everyone abide by Ontario Safety Standards while on this site. All provincial Safety Regulations and Safety Procedures are to be followed.

Safety shoes and hard hats are required for all personnel involved in the move-in and move-out of the show. Other personal protective equipment (gloves, safety glasses, hearing protection etc.) must be worn, as required.
